You're not Alone! Help?

71% of Working Americans live pay- check- to-paycheck. Where does that leave us when the heat goes out, the pipes burst, or the car breaks down?

Several years ago, I was living in WV without heat in November. My electric space heater did not provide enough heat for my newborn daughter. My job had met our needs, but it did not provide enough $ to replace our old, broken heating system.

My family was able to help, but if they had not, I would have been stranded. My job disqualified me from receiving assistance by the Government or anyone else.

I never wanted continuous assistance, just one little push out of the rut. If this situation describes you, we'd love to get you back on your feet: Self-sufficient with a renewed sense of faith and hope!
